ARTIST PROFILE

James A. Norkawich is an American pianist, composer, arranger and producer whose work spans jazz, the Great American Songbook, contemporary instrumental music, orchestral and cinematic writing, rock, faith-centered music and an extensive holiday catalog. His recording career combines a strong piano identity with large-scale arranging, studio production and collaborative projects.

Norkawich's current work includes solo recording projects, music for Revelation Rising, soundtrack-oriented releases, Studio 55 productions and the annual holiday catalog associated with his "Mr. Christmas" brand. His creative approach places melody and storytelling at the center while moving freely between intimate piano settings and full-band or orchestral production.
